

REGIONAL STUDIES ASSOCIATION ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2019

Pushing Regions beyond their Borders

Wednesday 5th – Friday 7th June 2019

University of Santiago de Compostela, Santiago de Compostela, Spain

#RSASdC

Abstract submission deadline extended until 14th March 2019

Regions are intrinsically bounded territories. However, they are increasingly exposed to global forces and flows that undermine their borders. Therefore, it is necessary to push regions beyond their limits, which can be understood as physical, but also as mental and disciplinary. In this sense, regions have to be re-examined going beyond the traditional scopes. The possibilities are multiple, including, among others: regions as scenarios for resilience and global competition; regions as social and political constructions permanently adapted to trans-scale dynamics; and regions as arenas for cooperation and inclusion.

In short, the 2019 RSA Annual Conference aims to discuss about how to push regions beyond all kind of borders as a way to plan the future with different lens. Thus, we are calling upon the regional studies and neighbouring communities to join us in Santiago de Compostela, with the following conference themes:

A. Regional development & its policies	B. Global economies, trade, commerce	C. Financial geographies, flows & globalisation
D. Regional economies & (re)location of activities	E. innovation, knowledge & regional development	F. Technologies, social networks & regional development
G. Entrepreneurship, businesses, start-ups & spin-offs	H. Economies of agglomeration, clusters & externalities	I. regions & identity economics
J. Tourism & regional development	K. Developing rural, peripheral, remote & marginal regions	L. Global South, BRICs & developing-area studies
M. Institutions, governance, governments & policies	N. Spatial planning, infrastructures & practices	O. Geopolitics nationalism, federalism & regionalism
